- [ ] 60g cranberry sauce
- [ ] 15g caster sugar

How to make it

1. Publishing party salmon cucumber bites SNACK
   Cut 2 telegraph cucumbers into 1.5cm rounds and pat dry. Beat 150g cream cheese with 2 tbsp chopped dill and the zest of half a lemon. Pipe or spoon onto each round. Top with a curl of smoked salmon from 200g, a couple of capers, a dill sprig and cracked pepper.

2. Upper West Side bagels SNACK
   Halve and toast 4 mini bagels until golden, about 3 minutes under a medium grill. Whip 120g cream cheese with 2 finely sliced spring onions and 1/4 tsp cracked black pepper. Spread over the eight toasted halves and serve two halves per person.

3. Fox Books cafe sandwiches MAIN
   Spread 8 slices sourdough with 60g cranberry sauce. Divide 300g sliced cooked turkey and 160g brie among four slices and close the sandwiches. Butter the outsides using 30g softened butter. Press in a hot sandwich pan or frying pan weighted with a second pan for 3 to 4 minutes per side, until golden, the turkey is piping hot and the brie melts. Cut each sandwich in half.

4. Cafe cheesecake SWEET
   Use the remaining three quarters of the baked cheesecake slab prepared and chilled overnight for Cafe cheesecake bites. The shared slab uses 180g digestive biscuits, 75g butter, 600g cream cheese, 140g caster sugar, 150g sour cream, 3 eggs and 1 tsp vanilla extract; make it once only. Slice 250g fresh strawberries and toss with 15g caster sugar. Leave for 20 minutes to macerate. Cut the reserved cheesecake into four dessert slices and serve with the strawberries and their juices.

5. Tall decaf cappuccino DRINK
   Use 72g decaf coffee beans to brew four double espressos, 60ml each, into warmed tall cups. Steam 600ml full cream milk in batches to 60°C, introducing enough air for a deep foam cap. Divide the steamed milk among the cups and spoon the foam on top. Serve immediately.

Showtime cue Serve the snacks when Joe sits down at Kathleen's cafe table.
