UPPER EAST SIDE, NEW YORK

Edie's

Est. 1963

The back table, any night.

HOUSE NOTES

Brunch on Sundays from eleven.

Book parties in the back room.

Tap water runs clear.

Nothing here is overrated.

Edie's

Best room in New York to argue about Bergman. Get the cheesecake. It's on my list.

Ike

Second Ave. at 88th St., N.Y. 10028.
Menu No. 79.

Dinner till two.
Prices subject to change.

SECOND AVENUE AT 88TH STREET

Edie's

RESTAURANT & SALOON

CHAPTER ONE

At the bar

Manhattan 2.50

Rye, sweet vermouth and bitters, stirred cold, with a cherry.

The pitcher for your table, 17.00.

Crostini misti 2.75

Little rounds of French bread, toasted. Ricotta with lemon peel and honey, or mushrooms, garlic and thyme under Parmesan.

Shrimp cocktail 4.95

Jumbo shrimp, poached and well chilled, with a sharp horseradish sauce and lemon.

CHAPTER TWO

Sunday brunch

Sutton Place platter 5.50

Toasted bagels, cream cheese, sliced Nova, capers, red onion cut thin and fresh dill.

Wrapped to go for the bench by the bridge.

Belgian waffles 3.50

Crisp squares, maple syrup, sweet butter, berries in season.

Dachshunds welcome at brunch.

CHAPTER THREE

Late supper

Chicken Kung Pao 7.25

Diced dark meat stir-fried hot with dried red peppers, soy, rice wine and black vinegar. Roasted peanuts, scallions and rice.

Szechuan style. Packed to go for the late movie.

Linguine, white clam 7.75

Littlenecks opened in garlic, oil and white wine, with parsley and red pepper.

Veal piccata 9.50

Thin scallops sautéed in butter, lemon, capers and vermouth.

CHAPTER FOUR

Desserts

NY cheesecake 2.50

Lemon and vanilla on a buttery crumb crust. Baked slow, chilled overnight.

Worth living for, the regulars say.

Pears in red wine 2.25

Bosc halves poached with cinnamon and orange peel, with cream.

Our answer to Cézanne.