

RISTORANTE, THE BRONX, N.Y.

Louis'

The pushcart market round our corner, where we buy every tomato.

THE BEST VEAL IN THE CITY

TO START
Antipasti

Antipasto, wedding style .65
Salami, aged provolone, olives and roasted peppers, at room temperature.

Arancini .40
Crisp risotto balls, fried golden round a melting mozzarella heart.

BY HAND, EVERY MORNING
Pasta

Rigatoni, Sunday gravy .85
Pork and beef meatballs, fennel sausage, slow tomato, pecorino.

We cook with Genco Pura olive oil. Prices subject to change. OLinville 2-1972. Form L-46.

SPECIALITÀ DELLA CASA
The Veal

Veal scaloppine 1.72
Thin cutlets pan-fried in butter, with Marsala wine and mushrooms.
Pounded to order. Allow a few minutes.

COMPLETE DINNER
The family dinner 2.50

Antipasto, rigatoni and gravy, the veal, cannoli, espresso.

BOMBONIERA
Connie & Carlo
Long Beach, 1945

An orange on every table

Bought each morning at the fruit stand by the olive oil company.

FROM NAZORINE'S

Take the cannoli

Cannoli .25

Crisp shells, orange-scented ricotta, dark chocolate, crushed pistachio.

Boxed and tied with string, for the ride home.

Oil, garlic, tomatoes, then sausage and meatballs. Wine and a pinch of sugar. My trick.

Pete Clemenza

AFTER DINNER

Caffè & Bar

Espresso .10

Dark roast, a curl of lemon peel.

Blood orange soda .15

Ruby citrus syrup, cold seltzer.

Chianti .35

By the glass, from the straw bottle.

Anisette .30

Sweet cordial, two coffee beans.

HOUSE CUSTOMS

Old-fashioned plumbing out back.

Police officers dine here often.

Never side against the family.