DINNER AND DANCING NIGHTLY

MIDTOWN MANHATTAN · SIXTY-FIFTH FLOOR

EVENING STAR ROOM

VALENTINE'S NIGHT · SUNDAY, FEBRUARY 14, 1993

The view from our window tables on Valentine's night.

TO BEGIN

Northwest salmon spread — 9.50

Hot-smoked fish worked into cream cheese and crème fraîche with dill, capers, lemon and horseradish. Toasted bagel chips.

Flown in overnight from Seattle.

Baltimore crab cake — 12.50

Maryland lump meat, barely bound and pan browned, with remoulade.

Jumbo shrimp cocktail — 14.00

Five on crushed ice with cocktail sauce and a wedge of lemon.

Dinner from six. Dancing until one.

Reservations (212) 555-0214

SUPPER IS SERVED FROM SIX

THE MENU

Evening Star Room

Sixty-fifth floor

THE KITCHEN

Baked salmon — 26.00

Fillet roasted under parsley, grated lemon peel and bread crumbs. Steamed green beans, warm butter spooned over.

Mild. Nothing to sneeze at.

Filet mignon — 34.00

Ten ounces, broiled to order, with béarnaise and potatoes Anna.

Roast half chicken — 24.00

Rosemary and garlic, pan juices, wild rice.

SWEETS

Valentine hearts — 2.14

Sugar cookies made with browned butter, cut by hand, iced red and white.

A pair on every saucer tonight.

Soufflé for two — 14.00

Dark chocolate, baked to order, warm sauce poured at the table.

THE LOUNGE

Iced mocha — 4.50

Strong coffee with dark chocolate melted through, cold milk over ice, whipped cream and cocoa.

The way they take it in Seattle.

Late show popcorn — 3.50

Popped in coconut oil, tossed with browned butter and sea salt.

Bar radio stays on the call-in show.

Espresso — 2.50

Pulled at the bar, with a twist of lemon peel.

RESERVED — Table 14

Two at eight, by the window. Please let the kitchen know about my allergies. Something mild.

Walter Jackson

Prices subject to change.