WHERE THE PICTURES GET MADE

THE GREEN LIGHT

BEVERLY HILLS
LUNCH 12 TO 3

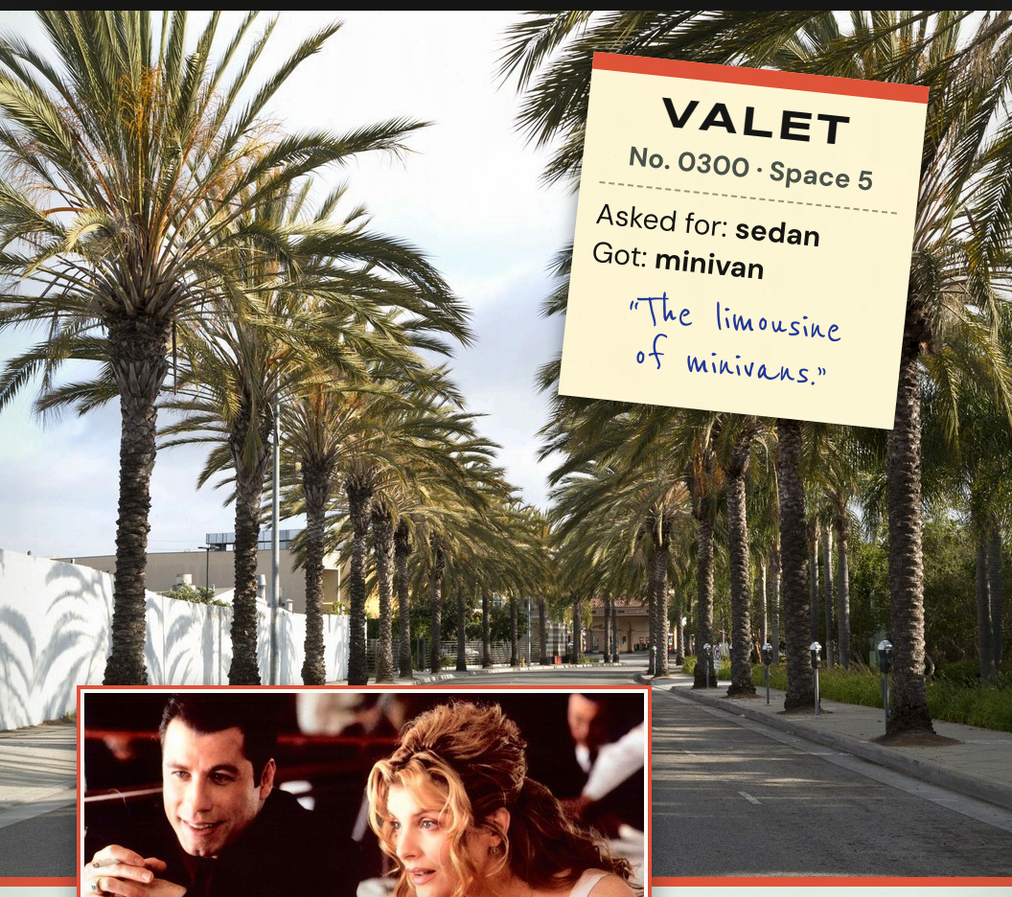

Table 5, out on the palm side. Pitches all day.

HOUSE RULE NO. 1

LOOK AT ME.

Your waiter looks you in the eye. You do the same. That is how we take an order here.

Look-at-me Bloody Mary 6.50
Vodka, tomato, lemon, a little heat, a celery stick.

BEFORE THE MEETING

OPENING SCENE

Miami ham croquetas 8.00
Crisp crumb jacket, creamy center, nutmeg.
Mind the jacket. Ask Ray Bones.

Guava pastelitos 6.00
Puff pastry, guava paste, cream cheese, sugar.

LUNCH

The back booth. Face the room, let them come to you.

THE DEAL GETS MADE

SECOND ACT

Chili's steak frites — 24.00

Sirloin seared hard, red wine and shallot butter, double-fried frites.

He knows how this scene goes.

Turnaround club — 14.50

Roast turkey, crisp bacon, avocado, tomato and lettuce on three decks of toasted sourdough.

In development since noon.

Left on table 5 after lunch. We kept them.

ROLL CREDITS

THE ENDING

B-movie popcorn sundae — 5.00

Vanilla ice cream, hot fudge, caramel corn, salted peanuts.

Half a million cheaper than a script.

Cuban coffee — 2.00

Short, sweet and strong, the Miami way.

Prices subject to change. Ransom notes pay best. Mr. Weir sits in booth 1; never mention his height. Form GL-300. 1995.
