- [ ] 750ml light Italian red wine

How to make it

1 San Gennaro sausage bites SNACK

Grill 500g Italian sausages over high heat for 12 minutes, turning, until blistered and cooked through. Grill 1 red capsicum and 1 onion cut into chunks until charred at the edges. Slice the sausages thick and thread onto toothpicks with the capsicum and onion. Serve with 50g hot mustard.

2 Fried calamari SNACK

Slice 500g squid tubes into rings and soak in 250ml buttermilk for 30 minutes. Mix 100g fine semolina with 100g plain flour and plenty of salt. Drain the squid, toss in the flour mix and fry in 190C oil in batches for 90 seconds until pale gold. Salt and serve with 2 lemons cut into wedges.

3 Penne arrabbiata MAIN

Gently fry 4 sliced garlic cloves and 1 tsp dried chilli flakes in 4 tbsp olive oil for 2 minutes. Add 800g crushed tomatoes and simmer 15 minutes, seasoning well. Cook 500g penne until al dente and toss through the sauce with a splash of pasta water and chopped parsley. Finish with 50g grated pecorino.

4 Zeppole SWEET

Mix 250g plain flour, 7g dried yeast, 1 tbsp caster sugar, a pinch of salt and 200ml warm water into a sticky batter and leave to rise for 1 hour. Drop teaspoons into 175C oil and fry 3 minutes until puffed and golden. Drain, tip into a paper bag with 60g icing sugar, shake and eat hot.

5 San Gennaro red wine with white peaches DRINK

Halve and stone 3 ripe white peaches, then slice thinly into a large jug. Sprinkle with 1 tbsp caster sugar and leave 10 minutes. Pour over 750ml light Italian red, such as Lambrusco secco or a young Chianti, and refrigerate for at least 1 hour. Serve in tumblers with a spoonful of peach in each. Eat the peaches last.

Showtime cue Hit play on the jukebox and pour a round when Johnny Boy walks into Tony's bar.
