DINNER AND DANCING NIGHTLY

MIDTOWN MANHATTAN · SIXTY-FIFTH FLOOR

Evening Star Room

VALENTINE'S NIGHT · SUNDAY, FEBRUARY 14, 1993

The view from our window tables on Valentine's night. Ask for a window.

TO BEGIN

Northwest salmon spread — 9.50

Hot-smoked fish worked into cream cheese and crème fraîche with dill, capers, lemon and horseradish. Toasted bagel chips.

Flown in overnight from Seattle.

Baltimore crab cake — 12.50

Maryland lump meat, barely bound and pan browned, with remoulade.

Jumbo shrimp cocktail — 14.00

Five on crushed ice with cocktail sauce and a wedge of lemon.

Dinner from six. Dancing until one.

Reservations (212) 555-0214

DINNER AND DANCING NIGHTLY

SUPPER IS SERVED FROM SIX

THE MENU

Evening Star Room

Sixty-fifth floor

THE KITCHEN

Baked salmon 26.00

Fillet roasted under parsley, grated lemon peel and bread crumbs. Steamed green beans, warm butter spooned over.

Mild. Nothing to sneeze at.

Filet mignon 34.00

Ten ounces, broiled to order, with béarnaise and potatoes Anna.

Roast chicken 24.00

Rosemary and garlic, with wild rice.

SWEETS

Valentine hearts 2.14

Browned butter sugar cookies, hand cut, iced red and white.

A pair on every saucer tonight.

Soufflé for two 14.00

Dark chocolate, baked to order, sauce poured at the table.

THE LOUNGE

Iced mocha 4.50

Strong coffee with dark chocolate melted through, cold milk over ice, whipped cream and cocoa.

The way they take it in Seattle.

Late show popcorn 3.50

Popped in coconut oil, tossed with browned butter and sea salt.

Bar radio stays on the call-in show.

Candles and roses on every table, February 14.

RESERVED — Table 14

Two at eight, by the window. Please tell the kitchen about my allergies. Something mild.

Walter Jackson

Form 0214. Printed in U.S.A. © 1993.

Prices subject to change.