RISTORANTE

Lume di Luna

Cucina italiana. Dinner nightly from five o'clock.

ANTIPASTI

Rosemary focaccia 2.75
Baked this afternoon in Brooklyn, dimpled with olive oil and flaky salt, served warm.

Fried calamari 6.50
Tender rings and tentacles in a light, crisp coating, marinara and lemon on the side.

Escarole and beans 4.25
Cannellini in a light broth with garlic, a thread of olive oil, grated pecorino.

PASTA

Linguine with clams 10.95
Littlenecks opened in garlic, olive oil and white wine, chopped parsley.

Penne alla vodka 9.50
Tomato, heavy cream, sweet onion, Parmigiano.

SECONDI

Chicken scaloppine piccata 12.75
Breast pounded thin and sautéed, lemon, white wine, capers and butter, chopped parsley.

Sirloin steak 17.50
Sixteen ounces, charred in a hot iron pan, sea salt and cracked pepper. Served with the big knife.

CONTORNI

Broccoli rabe 3.75
Sautéed with garlic, finished with lemon.

Roast potatoes 3.25
Crisp in the pan with onion and oregano.

Secondi come with a green salad.

Dolci, caffè, the bar and our late supper are on the back.

Lume di Luna

DOLCI

Cannoli (2) 3.50
Fresh ricotta and orange zest in chocolate-dipped shells, filled to order.

Tiramisù 4.25
Espresso-soaked ladyfingers, mascarpone, cocoa.

Spumoni 2.75
Pistachio, cherry and chocolate, in layers.

CAFFÈ

Espresso 1.25
Pulled short and strong. Snap out of it.

Cappuccino 2.00
Steamed milk, a dusting of cinnamon.

Sambuca 3.75
With three coffee beans, for luck.

DAL BAR

Amaretto sour 4.00
Lemon and egg white shaken frothy, over ice with a cherry.

House wine 3.00 / 10.00
Red or white, by the glass or the carafe.

Chianti Classico 15.00
Tuscany. By the bottle.

Barolo 28.00
Piedmont. By the bottle, for a big night.

Asti Spumante 16.00
Sweet and sparkling. Alla famiglia.

Full moon tonight? Your second sour is on us.

DOPO L'OPERA

After the Met, late supper from 10 p.m. to 1 a.m.

Eggs in the hole 4.50
Thick white toast fried in butter, a ring of sweet red pepper, the yolk left soft.

Spaghetti aglio e olio 6.50
Parsley and hot pepper flakes, the way the kitchen eats after service.

Water on request. Proposals welcome. Please kneel.

Private parties in the back room. Cash and major credit cards. Tax not included.