LANSQUENET-SOUS-TANNES, LENT 1959

Chocolaterie

Fine chocolates, cocoa to drink, and small temptations

Armande, our first regular. Lent has not slowed her down, Monsieur le Comte.

NOTICE

During the holy season of Lent, the parish is asked to keep away from shops of indulgence.

The Comte de Reynaud, Mayor

Come in out of the north wind. Say nothing, and I will guess your favorite. Open every day, Lent included.

Vianne

INSIDE THE BOX

Small Temptations

From the window

Truffles, six — 180 F
Dark ganache in cocoa, hazelnut or chili sugar.

Mendiants — 150 F
Dark discs set with almond, hazelnut, raisin and fig.

Candied orange peel — 170 F
Slow candied, then half dipped in bitter chocolate.

The Easter box — 1959 F
Two dozen assorted, tied in red ribbon.
We post anywhere. Even Venice.

At the counter

Chili hot chocolate — 60 F
Milk steeped with red pepper and cinnamon, dark bittersweet whisked in, flaky salt. Tiny cups.

A little cocoa — 40 F
Sweet, warm and mild, for small ones.
A second cup for Pantoufle.

Easter vin chaud — 80 F
Southern red warmed with orange, spices and honey.

Armande's birthday supper

Duck confit — 900 F
Salted overnight, cooked slow in its own fat, then crisped. Duck fat potatoes, green salad.

Chocolate mousse — 120 F
Dark bittersweet and whipped eggs in little cups, a pinch of chili salt.

Up went our sign, the day the north wind blew us in.

VIANNE ASKS

What do you see?

Spin the painted plate and tell her. She will find the chocolate to match.

RIVER LANDING

Boats welcome

Moor below the old mill. Repairs done. Ask for Roux.

Prices in francs, subject to change with the wind. Wrapped by Josephine. Place de l'Église. Tel. 20.00. Lent, 1959.